Maxwell's On Main is located right on Main Street in Doylestown, PA. This place is in a land of pricey, trendy food and shopping, so the last thing you would expect to find is a great burger. There are many other places with burgers in Doylestown, but they are the kind that smother the burger with crazy nonsense to basically hide the fact that their burger stinks. Well, none of that at Maxwell's On Main. They are not afraid to let the burger stand all on it's own. That is why they are listed as one of our top burgers.

This is their signature burger. Like a good ripe piece of fruit, you bite into it and the nector of the burger drips out onto your hand, plate or roll. Great taste of real beef and cheese. The roll went well with it and the fries were really good also.

I was going to take a picture of the burger nector left on the plate when I was done but I swished my fries in it until it was all gone...sorry.
