Rossi's has simply one of the nation's best burgers, thick, juicy and flavorful. To a person, everyone we have sent here came back and said "best burger I ever ate". This is a slice of America not to be missed. If you are ever in this area you must - MUST eat this burger. We also recommend nibbling on an appetizer of salami and provolone cheese while you wait for the best burger of your life. On our most recent trip, we also tried a special of the night, broccoli rabe with hot sausage. Man, this appetizer was great too. We also split a Delmonico steak sandwich for an app too. Rossi's just does everything well. Tasty stuff. Watch the hours though, while Rossi's is a tavern, they do close in mid-afternoon and open again at 5.

Cheeseburger, plain, with fries and slaw. These fries are perfect to catch the dripping burger juice.

Look at how thick and juicy these burgers are, ummm, so delicious....

Bacon makes most things better. Hard to believe you could make this burger better, but Rossi's crispy, piled-high bacon still does the trick.

Here come the appetizers:

Salami and provolone platter – simple, delicious.

Here is the broccoli rabe with hot sausage – great to eat and also to wipe up the remaining oil with your burger, one of Tom’s favorite moves.

Delmonico
steak
covered
with American
cheese and
fried onions.
Not
technically
an appetizer,

but on this night, we split one before downing our burgers.
Rossi’s just does everything right, awesome every time!
