A no brainer when it comes to the definition of Philly Style sandwiches.

Some would argue these guys took the best ideas from the “old neighborhood” and brought these things to the masses under one roof. So many can't miss items on this menu it makes it hard to decide what to get. We also have what we call the “Tony Luke's Rule”, which is you can't order just one thing when you come here. This will be a running report as we will add to this every time we go down.

First up is the Roast Pork Italian. If you have never had a roast pork sandwich, this is the place to start. Get it with sharp provolone and broccoli rabe - it just makes everything taste that much better. The spices and juice this thing is made in is just perfect.

Next is the veal cutlet – again with sharp provolone and broccoli rabe, bacon and other dressings. Everything about this sandwich is delicious. You can see why there is such a huge line every time you go. Don't let that scare you though, it moves quickly.

Tony Luke's is great to get before any Philly concert or sporting event. Rumor has it they are coming to Wildwood Crest soon....
